

Antifa International is a social media collective of anti-fascists in five different countries. Established in 2014, we disseminate news about anti-fascist initiatives around the world; provide communications materials for anti-fascists and promote and support the global antifa movement generally.

Find us:

Tumblr: antifainternational.tumblr.com

Mastodon: @antifaintl

Twitter/Instagram: @antifaintl

In 2015, we founded The International Anti-Fascist Defence Fund, which provides support for anti-fascists and anti-racists whenever they experience negative consequences due to their work combating bigotry and hatred. Since then, the Fund has donated more than $125,000 USD to over 600 antifa in 22 countries. To find out more about the Defence Fund (like how you can support it!), check out the blog: <https://intlantifadefence.wordpress.com/>

Antifa International presents...

Racist hurt itself in its confusion!

What if a Russian's ancestors traveled from east to west 100 years ago, or 500 years ago, or 1000 years ago? Is that Russian "white" or "non-white?"

Also, if "continental Europe" is the origin of all white people, what race are the people of England, Iceland, Ireland, Scotland, and Wales, given that none of those countries are on the mainland?

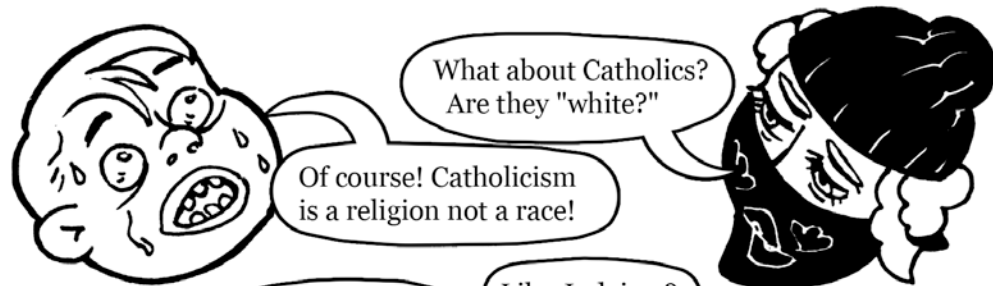

For that matter, are Khazakistanis white? Part of it is considered Europe, like Russia.

They have blond or red or brown hair. Or sometimes black hair!
Their hair is straight, or a bit curly, too, but not *too* curly!
Their eyes are blue or green or hazel, but some have brown eyes.
And of course their skin is white!
OK so if someone has black and maybe curly hair, brown eyes, anything darker than light pink skin, they're non-white?
Well, not always but -
And at what point is a person's skin a shade too dark to be considered white?
Well you know just by look-

What is the precise shade of skin that takes someone from "white" to "non-white" status; who decided on that dividing line; and how was it determined in an objective, scientifically-valid way that particular shade of skin does divide "white" people from "non-white" people?

Uh...
I mean, are people from the Mediterranean white or non-white?
Clearly zey are not white!
Clearly they are white!

OK, that's clear. What about Jews? Some Jews have blue eyes and blonde, straight hair. Will they be welcome in your "white" nation?
Of course!
Nein!
Hell no!
Very clear...

What about Catholics? Are they "white?"

Of course! Catholicism is a religion not a race!

Nein! That is totally different.

Like Judaism?

Exactly, just like Judaism! I love Ben Shapiro!

Catholics ain't white!

Ich bin ein Katholischer, Dummkopf!

Godam Irish ain't white!

What about the Irish? Clearly the Irish are "white" though, right?

Of course!

OK, so citizenship in your "white" nation will depend on having blond or red or brown hair, or sometimes black hair; and that hair will be straight but sometimes curly but not too curly. Your citizens' eyes will be blue or green or hazel but sometimes brown and their skin will be white but you're not sure how dark it can be before people aren't "white" enough and have to be kicked out and you have no set standard of determining what shade of skin is the dividing point. People from the Mediterranean, Jews, Catholics, and Irish people will either be welcome as "white" or removed as "non-white," depending on which racist is calling the shots.

Let us just... get back to you about this in a little bit.

What's the matter? The Ottoman Empire extended over all those areas at one point or another, so if you include Croatia, Serbia, Macedonia, Greece, & Turkey in your "European ancestry" definition, you'll have to include these as well.

Ugh, agh...

*psst psst psst*

OK, we don't mean historical Europe. Just the parts of the Ottoman Empire that were in continental Europe are where white people are from.

Oh, of course! Continental Europe! So Turkey and all the Mediterranean are "white," then?

Fuck no!

Why not?

Russia is split between Europe and Asia. So what about Russians? Are they all "white," all "non-white," or does it depend on what side of the Ural Mountains one's ancestors come from, which would make two-thirds of Russia "non-white?"

They're white. No wait, some of them are white and some of them aren't.

White Nationalism, Take Four

We're baaaack...

OK, whatever... Hey, what happened to the guy in sheets?

I'm pleadin' tha fifth...

Ah! Ugh. Uh... Your scientific nonsense about genetic markers and objective measurements won't stop our white nation!

Once again: how are you deciding who is and who isn't "white?"

Simple - if your ancestors are European, then you're white! Ta-dah! LONG LIVE THE WHITE RACE!

Are you including in Europe countries that were part of the Ottoman Empire? You know like Serbia, Romania...

Sure

It's a trap!

...Turkey...

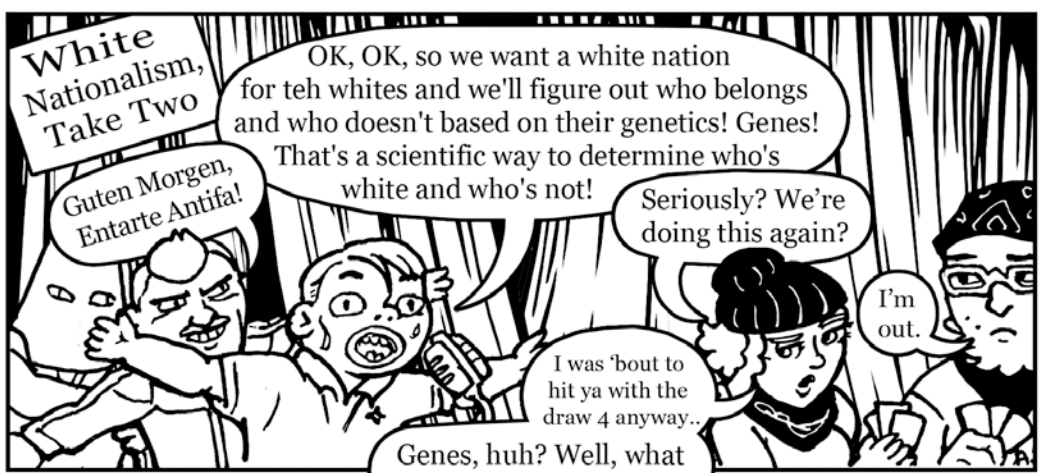

Uh, ok

NEIN! NEIN!

...Palestine, Iraq, Syria, Lybia, Egypt, Algeria, Tunisia...

Whoa whoa whoa! Now hold on there!

White Nationalism, Take Two

Guten Morgen, Entarte Antifa!

OK, OK, so we want a white nation for teh whites and we'll figure out who belongs and who doesn't based on their genetics! Genes! That's a scientific way to determine who's white and who's not!

Seriously? We're doing this again?

I'm out.

I was 'bout to hit ya with the draw 4 anyway..

Genes, huh? Well, what gene will you look for?

You know, the white gene. The gene that makes people white.

Meaning the gene that make people have blue or green or hazel or brown eyes; or blonde or red or brown or black hair; or straight hair; or curly hair but not too curly; and white skin but you can't say at what point someone's skin is too dark to be considered white...

This isn't going well.

It gets worse for you: there are no genetic markers that are found exclusively in "white" populations. Zero. This is why geneticists, physical anthropologists, and biologists all reject "race" as a scientifically useful or valid concept.

Wotta revoltin' development!

Uh oh

Uh, I just remembered that I have to make an urgent call. BRB!

It was a boring conversation anyway

White Nationalism, Take Three

You've been trying to trick us with your trick questions but we're on to you now!

*kaf* Whoa. Oh... Gimme a mome.

It's very simple: we'll know who's white and who's not simply by finding out if their parents were white or not!

Really?

OK, OK, Let's... Let's use me as an example, then. Am I white?

Were your parents white?

Sure.

Then you're white! You'll have a place in our glorious white nation!

Hold up. How do I know if my parents were white? Doesn't that depend on if their parents - my grandparents - were white?

Oh. Um, I guess so.

And doesn't the race of my grandparents depend on what race their parents - my great-grandparents - were?

Now wait a sec-

And in turn isn't the race of my great-grandparents determined by the race of my great-great grandparents? DO YOU SEE THE FUCKING PROBLEM HERE?

If you can tell if a person is "white" based on if their parents are "white," that sets off a never-ending series of questions about what race their preceding parents belonged to. How do you determine in an objective, scientifically valid way which generation the series of questions to determine if someone is white or not ends?

Even if you were able to say "if everyone up to your great-great-great grandparents are white, so you are too," you still haven't explained what "white" is or how you can tell if someone's "white."

Goddamn it.